GERMANS CLAIM A VICTORY OVER ALLIES IN THE WEST; PARIS SAYS ARMY ADVANCES

Won Kluck's Enveloping Movement Fails in the North, French Claim.
BATTLE ON AT ARRAS.
Lost Positions Between Somme and Oise Rivers Are Recaptured.

BERLIN (via The Hague), Oct. 8.—(United Press).—The situation in France is said to show very little change. The attempts of the French to recover lost ground have all been frustrated and the German right wing is reported as making progress, says the German War Office in an official report to-day.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The allied armies again on the offensive in the "Battle of the Three Rivers." It is officially admitted that they are slowly regaining every foot of the territory sacrificed to the Germans in the early days of this week. The Germans are being thrown back between the Somme and the Oise and have also been driven north of Arras.

But it is the cavalry engagements that overshadow all else. All along the northern frontier of France the mounted troops of both armies are in battle. The official communiqué laconically says that the fighting "extends nearly to the (North) Sea."

Behind that announcement is contained the declaration that the Germans are still doing their utmost to cut the British lines of communication. And, to prevent this, the crack French cavalry, assisted by the Indian horsemen of King George, are fighting desperately and according to all reports, successfully.

REINFORCEMENTS ARE FORCING GERMAN BACK.
There was a more confident ring in to-day's statement than at any time this week. It is declared how the British and French reinforcements are already on the firing line and that it is due to their efforts that the Germans are being driven back.

The Germans continue to endeavor to resume the offensive in the Woëvre region, but so far they have failed. In every attempt they have been repulsed with heavy losses. It is now accepted that there will be a long delay before a decisive result can be secured in the north.

The Germans continue to bring their reserve lines into action, indicating that their preparedness is phenomenal. The reserve divisions, for whom it was recently reported difficulty was being encountered in securing uniforms and equipment, are reported to be fully as well fitted out as are the first line troops.

CAVALRY FORCES FIGHT ALONG NORTH SEA.
The official announcement reads: "First: On our left wing, in the region of the Department of Nord, the enemy has made progress at no point. At certain points he has moved back, particularly to the north of Arras, where the fighting is developing under conditions favorable for us."

MARKS'S MARKETS SAID TO BE GOUGING VISITING PUBLIC

Grocers Say They Are in Possession of Fakers Who Charge Double Prices.

Borough President Marks heard this afternoon the three pet open markets referred to by members of the Retail Grocers' Association of New York as "food fakers" and peddlers' markets" during an exciting hour and a half in his office in the Municipal Building. He heard members of the same organization declare that if he did not either change the entire policy of the two markets they would stomp the town with their 500 members and denounce him.

Mr. Marks was told that his market scheme had become a sort of an obsession for which "the papers" had "fallen" and that as a matter of fact he had not saved the people of Manhattan one penny by his spectacular venture. Not only did the retail grocers threaten to begin a campaign against the Borough President, but they left him vowing that they would see Mayor Mitchell and then the Governor. It was probably the most exciting time the Manhattan Borough President ever experienced.

"Free public markets! Bah! They are peddlars and food fakers markets!" declared John Steenbeck, President of the Retail Grocers.
"You say you're doing this to save the people money, when, as every one knows, you are discriminating against honest business men who pay taxes and water rents and live here in the community," said Henry Haslop, a director of the retail grocers' organization.

Here are some of the things the Retail Grocers' Association to-day charged against the free markets: That not two per cent. of the produce is from farmers direct; that short weights are being worked on the innocent purchasers; that potatoes which are selling at the three city markets for 90 cents a bushel can be purchased at any decent grocery store for 70 to 75 cents a bushel; that apples that sell for $2.50 a barrel at the market can be purchased for $1 a barrel and that the persons selling the apples at the latter price can make a profit of 25 per cent.

It was peremptorily demanded of President Marks that he discontinue his public markets or run them along the lines promised the public. By this the grocers said they meant that only farmers be permitted to sell produce.

STALLINGS SAYS HE'LL PUNCH NOSE OF CONNIE MACK

Hot Argument On Between World Series Managers Over Use of Grounds.

SPECULATORS ARE BUSY.

Philadelphia Is Aroused and Police Are Ordered to Arrest Scalpers.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Philadelphia is now in the throes of an upheaval over the use of the city of speculators in tickets for the world's baseball series. They were instructed to arrest any man caught trying to sell seats for the games between the Braves and Athletics, either in hotel lobbies or on the streets.

Charges have been made that policemen accepted money for obtaining places in the line for the buyers of reserved seats yesterday, and Director Porter has ordered a rigid investigation. With detectives hunting them to-day and rain threatened to-morrow, life has a dreary outlook for the speculators here.

A red hot controversy was on this afternoon with Mack and Stallings on the firing line. Stallings stalked from a telephone booth at the Majestic Hotel after a conversation with Mack and declared he had invited the leader of the Athletics down to the hotel, where he would "punch his head."

He charged that Mack was trying to put something over by refusing to permit the Braves to practice at Shibe Park. Stallings also objected to Mack's statement that when the Boston leader left the Athletics' headquarters yesterday he was perfectly satisfied with the explanation that had been given him. Stallings insisted he was never satisfied.

Mack declared this afternoon that the Braves could certainly have used Shibe Park had the request been made soon enough. He said he explained to Stallings yesterday that his players had left, and that as he had instructed them to report at 2 o'clock it would be impossible to change these orders. The field was then offered to Stallings for this morning, but Stallings refused. At all events the weather prevented practice.

From the Athletic camp it was stated that they had learned that Fred Mitchell, Stallings' chief adviser, was sent to Philadelphia last week to ask Mack for the use of Shibe Park for one afternoon. Upon reading in the papers, however, that the Athletics intended practice both morning and afternoon, Mitchell is said to have declared that he did not think there was any use asking Mack for the park and returned to New York. If the request had been made then, the Athletic leader declared, it would have been granted.

The prospects of rain for the first game has thrown many of the scalpers into a panic. Tickets which were being sold for $10 yesterday were offered at $5 to-day, and there was a slump in price all along the line. Despite a drizzle of rain the first-inliners for bleacher seats at Shibe Park stuck fast to their positions throughout this morning, and the line was rapidly growing this afternoon. Wrapped in sweaters or overcoats, the men and boys huddled together

GREAT BRITISH FORCE HURRIES TO ANTWERP WITH BIG NAVAL GUNS

City Is Being Bombarded From Three Sides, While Airships Drop Bombs From Overhead—100,000 Non-Combatants in Wild Flight to Holland.

ALL OUTER FORTS REDUCED,
THE REPORT FROM BERLIN

LONDON, Oct. 8 [Associated Press].—"Antwerp was subjected to a furious bombardment throughout last night," telegraphs the correspondent of the Star at Ghent. "Shells from the German 16-inch (42-centimetre) guns were falling early to-day in the Place Verte close to the Cathedral."

The intensity of the attack is taken in some quarters to mean that the Germans are preparing a second line of defense stretching from Antwerp to Brussels, Namur and Metz, upon which they can fall back in the event of reverses on their present line in north of France.

LONDON, Oct. 8 [United Press].—That a British expeditionary force of great strength has been rushed to Antwerp from west of Ghent was reported here to-day. This expedition was declared to consist chiefly of artillery and a naval detachment with heavy guns.

The Germans are reported redoubling their efforts to take the city. They are in far stronger force than any one up to the present has imagined. It is declared that there are not less than a quarter of a million men engaged about the city, and it is invested from the south, east and north-east, although the most determined efforts are being made on the south.

The Germans are utilizing their aeroplanes to create a reign of terror. These machines, which are far faster than the Belgian aeroplanes, circle over the city at a great height dropping bombs. It is reported that a score of non-combatants have been killed by the aerial warriors. Zeppelins are also reported as being held near the outer German battle line and it is believed that they also are to be pressed into service.

While the residents of Antwerp are panic stricken and have fled the city wherever possible, the Belgian forces are still confident. It is said a steamer carried to Ostend for shipment to England many of the Antwerp art treasures.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A despatch to the Central News from Amsterdam says that during Wednesday night six Zeppelins flew over Antwerp, dropping bombs in all directions. The extent of the damage done is not known, but one of the bombs damaged the Palace of Justice.

King Albert Stays in Antwerp
To Direct the Defending Army

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Conflicting reports as to the actual situation at Antwerp are reaching London. From The Hague it is stated that the city itself is being bombarded from all sides, and that although the Government archives have been removed to Ostend, King Albert and Queen Elizabeth remain in the city. The King is directing the defense.

The Hague report says the bombardment of the city began after the expiration of the two hours' notice to the inhabitants to leave, and that many buildings in the city were destroyed.

It is also reported from The Hague that the German
